

What is the Newest Chatter?

THE NATELLI
PRIVATE CLIENT GROUP of Oppenheimer & Co. Inc.

The year 2020 has been hectic to say the least, whether in personal life or in the financial markets. Several new ideas have come from Covid19 precautions and quarantines throughout the country and the world. On a smaller scale, here in the northeast outdoor dining has been very enjoyable now becoming a fan favorite. Working from home has also been an adventure, where employees and employers have found it to be appealing. The next newest start up in 2020 will be a bi monthly newsletters from the Natelli Private Client Group of Oppenheimer & Co. Inc.

We have decided to share some of our thoughts and events with our clients, prospects, or just readers of our newsletters. Occasionally we will also conduct interviews or discussions with current Oppenheimer & Co. Inc. employees getting their take and opinion on the financial markets or role with the firm. Being a boutique investment firm Oppenheimer & Co. Inc. provides clients with services that would not be received at other firms. We are excited to bring another level of the business to you that we are fortunate enough to experience on a daily basis.

In some way shape or form 2020 made humans adapt to their current situation. Especially us, moving from our office in Florham Park, New Jersey to our house about 30 minutes away. We miss going into the office each day, seeing our colleagues or clients sharing and talking about new ideas or trying to solve the next problem. Survival of the fittest has been the motto discussed between my father and I trying to deal with the surrounding circumstances of moving out of our home office. We could not have completed the move home without the help of many people and thank them for their expertise. The next chatter edition will focus more on the financial markets and the start of a generation group; The Natelli Private Client Group. We look forward to sharing this experience with you.
